Airport expansion to cost $300 million

Expected expansion of Detroit Metropolitan Airport within the next 15 years will cost $300 million and add three new terminals, four runways and parking areas, in addition to a limited access highway, airport superintendent Daniel Norton told the Wayne Chamber of Commerce last week.

The present airport facilities are valued at $200 million.

Norton explained the proposed airport expansion plans to the Wayne businessmen, predicting a growth in their own business volumes along with growth at the airport.

Plans formalized in 1967 for the proposed airport expansion project were returned by the Federal Aviation Agency and the Michigan Aeronautics Commission. Additional study was requested of the Wayne County Road Commission, which owns and operates the airport.

The commission is awaiting approval from those agencies of its airport layout master plan, which calls for the long-range addition of two new runways, two new domestic terminals, a new international terminal and a southern entrance to the airport which eventually may replace the current entrance, according to Chuck Hazen, Romulus' director of planning and development.

In addition to expanding the airport, the road commission is proposing to build a limited access highway just south of Eureka Road to connect I-275 with I-75. The new road would relieve traffic on I-94, which borders the airport on the north.

Another major plan includes the widening of Eureka Road to five lanes to prepare it as the future airport service road. It will be widened from Telegraph to about 800 feet west of Merriman, where it would be rerouted south to Vining Road, where it would again resume its normal course and be widened to five lanes northwest to the I-275 interchange.

The rerouting south would be due to one of the newly planned runways, which will end very near to the present Eureka Road.

Along the plans included in the $69 million first phase of the expansion project, along with the north-east runway, are:

- Land acquisition totalling 1,700 acres, some of which already has been completed, the rest of which is being negotiated now or will be within the next few years.

- Airfield survey improvements, replacing obsolete lighting.

- Expansion for the domestic terminal and a new international terminal.

- Expansion of the parking garage by 2,000 cars.

- Expansion of the baggage claim additions to terminal one, which currently are being done and will hopefully be finished by July.

- More storm water drainage facilities, including ponds and pump house.

- Air cargo area development.

- New maintenance building.

The new international terminal will be constructed north of the present domestic terminals near the southern entrance. The international terminal will house government inspection agencies, with construction expected to begin this fall.

The limited access highway is proposed as the second phase of expansion and would cost $50 million, according to the plans. The third phase calls for innovative parking structure-airport terminals at a cost of about $150 million.

"These parking structures will be built using the modular concept and will increase parking capacity to 2,000 cars each with a center core ramp system," Norton explained. "They will also permit terminal operations such as tickets and baggage claims."

He explained the expansion would allow for growth of existing airlines, not to add more.

"I predict there'll probably be fewer airlines in the future due to mergers," Norton said. Some homes must be razed

TREE DISTRIBUTION—Officials of the Wayne County Soil Conservation District distributed more than 40,000 tree seedlings at the 4-H Fairgrounds, located near Belleville, last Saturday. The tree distribution was part of the agency's soil conservation program.

Persons receiving the tree seedlings had previously ordered them from the soil conservation district. Fred Bonani of Belleville (left) received his tree seedlings from Glen Miller, treasurer of the WSCD.

Mayor's stadium court battle begins Friday

By HENRY CANTIN

A hearing on a lawsuit initiated by the City of Belleville and Mayor Royce E. Smith, challenging the use of tax money to build Detroit's proposed $126 million riverfront domed stadium, will begin in Wayne County Circuit Court on Friday.

Judge Blair Moody Jr., assigned to hear the lawsuit, will conduct a hearing Friday on a show cause order on why an injunction should not be issued against the defendants in the suit, stopping the sale of bonds and stadium construction.

Named defendants in the court proceedings are the Wayne County Stadium Authority and the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

City to award rubbish pact

The Romulus City Council is scheduled to take formal action this week on a new rubbish collecting contract for the city.

The deadline for the submission of sealed proposals by area rubbish collection contractors was 5 p.m. Tuesday.

The contract, if and when approved by the city council, calls for weekly rubbish pickups from 5,378 residential units (subject to review every three months) in addition to a special summer pickup program.

The rubbish collection cost to the city under the present contract presently amounts to $9,321 monthly, City Treasurer Albert Glinkski reported.

The current rubbish contract expired on Feb. 5. The present rubbish collection contractor, Canejo Sons Trucking Co. of 16321 Dodge St., Romulus, has been retained by the city pending receipt of bid proposals and determination of the low bidder.

Proposals received by the city must be guaranteed by a deposit of five per cent of the bid plus a surety bond for performance.

Despite the pending lawsuit opposing the financing of the stadium, the Wayne County Stadium Authority sold $126 million worth of bonds last Wednesday (April 19) to finance the construction of the stadium to a consortium led by Halsey, Stuart & Co., a Chicago bond management firm.

The low bid on the bond issue carried an average interest rate of 8.6359 per cent. Bond maturities go to 40 years. The deadline of the submission of sealed bond sale proposals was at 11 a.m. April 19.

The attorneys for the stadium authority contend the lawsuit filed in Wayne County Circuit Court "had no foundation in law."

The suit was initiated by Mayor Royce E. Smith representing the City of Belleville. He has been joined in the suit by investment counselors Marc Allen and William Ross Kelly of Grosse Pointe Woods.

The suit contends the sale of bonds to underwrite stadium construction costs amounts to public funding of a private business.

"In effect, that would be taxation without representation and that is unconstitutional," said Ronald J. Prebenda, the lawyer who filed the suit on April 18.

Mayor Smith said, "We believe that this is taxpayers' money being used for private purposes. With the financial figure they have for the return on this stadium, there is no way it can ever be a paying proposition."

The Wayne County Stadium Authority anticipates a revenue of $6 million annually. According to present plans for the stadium's financing, the annual bond debt would be paid off from the state's new hotel and motel tax, the state's share of money bet on horse races and revenue from stadium operations.

B. Ward Smith, city attorney, reported he did not think the taxpayers should be compelled to pay for private business.

As to the planned anticipated revenues, Prebenda stated, "Anticipated revenues will

Romulus mother blames city for flood problem

A Romulus mother of four children charged Monday her repeated complaints to the city about flooded conditions in her yard have failed to bring about an immediate solution.

She is Mrs. Marshall (Diane) Shaw of 15534 Meadow, Romulus. Her home is located in one of the city's relatively new subdivisions — Greenview Heights. She objects to the city's delay in adjusting the water problem.

Mrs. Shaw reported Monday her niece "almost drowned" in a knee-deep flooded area of her backyard. She stated a drain (manhole) has been set too low and is quickly covered with sand and dirt when there is a heavy rain.

She charged her calls have resulted in the city sending personnel "to pump" water out of her yard and then leave without doing anything about the drainage problem.

She claimed the flooded condition involves not only her own property, but that of her neighbor and two homes located behind her home.

She claims her requests to have the problem corrected before someone is hurt have been answered with "it will be taken care of as soon as it dries out" by those who have come to pump out the water.

Mrs. Shaw contends this may never happen, since there is water in the area nearly all the time.

Departmental budget requests seen by city

Romulus City Council has under study budget requests submitted by various city departments.

The proposed budget requirements of the departments were first submitted to Mayor Hyley J. Carnichael, who after study and review passed them on to the city council for its consideration.

The city's new fiscal year begins on July 1 and ends on June 30.

It was reported the proposed operating budget of the city for the new fiscal year is in the neighborhood of $2.5 to $2.6 million. This compares with a 1971-72 operating budget of $2,310,095.

Although final budget totals have not been approved or disclosed, the recently approved city-union employment contract calling for wage and salary increases is responsible for a measure of the reported rise in the 1972-73 operating budget.

Members of Local 214 of Teamsters, State, County and Municipal Workers, bargaining agent for Romulus city employees, called for wage and salary hikes of 17 to 51 per cent over the next three years.

The union contract provides for an increase of 13 per cent the first year, and six per cent the second and third years.

All city employees immediately received 5.5 per cent pay hikes as allowed under present guidelines of the U.S. Pay Board. Raises in excess of 5.5 per cent are subject to the federal pay board's approval.

The 13 per cent pay boost is retroactive to Nov. 14, the start of the Presidential Wage and Price Freeze Program.

Hearing date changed

A second public hearing on the new hunting ban in Romulus has been rescheduled for May 9 at 8 p.m. in the Romulus Senior High School.

Previously set for May 4, the hearing had to be changed because the high school was not available on May 4.

The hearing, the second set by the Romulus City Council on the law, will again discuss the hunting ban and the recommendations set forth by the Hunting Area Control Committee of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, which advocates a hunting ban in Romulus. The committee held a public hearing recently on the ban.

The new law was approved by the city council on Jan. 27. Since then, the gun control ordinance has been the subject of considerable controversy, and petitions have been filed by Councilman James C. Stewart opposing the ban.

Just short on luck

'They aren't really bad guys'

By KEVIN FOLEY

Chuck Spencer is 18. He's been out of work for nearly a year and has a sick wife and an infant son to support.

Chuck said he tried hard to get a job, looked everywhere. What little money he had soon ran out, and he sent his wife and child to live with his sister while he rented a room at a motel in Canton Township.

Chuck tried to get help from his family. He wired his father in Arkansas and asked for a loan — it never came.

In desperation, say police, Chuck and two of his friends started pulling holdups in order to survive. They robbed a small market in Sumpter Township, then a party store in Canton.

Police say they robbed another store in Romulus Friday morning. They got caught.

They got about $50 and frightened the life out of two clerks. In all three robberies they might have gotten a total of $300 or so. Not a lot of money to risk a sentence of life in prison for.

Wayne County Sheriff's Detective Alex Robertson, who investigated the robberies, says armed robbery is a dangerous crime — one of the most dangerous of all street crimes because the potential for murder is always there — just the twitch of a nervous finger and a capital crime results.

But Robertson, an intense, dedicated Scotch cop, also feels that there are extenuating circumstances for every crime.

He believes that Chuck Spencer and his companions, 21-year-old J. Douglas Montgomery and 18-year-old Ricky Higgins, are not bad kids, just young men who couldn't get a break in a highly competitive society.

"I've known all three of these guys for years," Robertson said, "and there isn't one of them that's really what you'd call a hardened criminal."

V.D. program slated in Huron

The Huron Township Health Committee is working on final plans for a venereal disease program tentatively set for Sunday, May 7, at the Huron High School Lecture Hall in New Boston.

The Huron Township Health Committee has felt an urgent need for an informative and educational program of this type after learning that more than 700,000 people each year are found to have V.D., that V.D. is the most contagious disease except for the common cold, and that teenagers account for about one-fourth of all contagious V.D. cases reported in Michigan.

The program will consist of a film presentation by four Wayne State University graduating pharmacy students. They are all members of Phi Delta Chi, a professional pharmacy fraternity.

They have presented their material upon numerous occasions to a variety of interested groups.

The program slated to begin at 2 p.m. is open to all interested persons.

City fails to OK Alliance funding

A recommendation that the City of Romulus contribute $50 to the Western Wayne County Drug Alliance failed to receive the approval of the Romulus City Council.

The recommendation was made by Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael, who has attended meetings of the alliance.

Councilman William H. Oakley made a motion that the council approve the recommendation. He was supported by Councilman Fred Junior Block.

Opposing the motion were Councilmen James C.

Stewart, Brooker R. Edwards and Ellis T. Pennington, Council President Jimmie Raspberry and Councilman Edmund W. Bizek, abstained. The motion failed for lack of sufficient support.

The Western Wayne County Drug Alliance was organized recently as a means of fighting drug abuse and adopting programs of united action to education and improve local drug abuse problem.

In a previous issue of this paper, it was reported that the city council had approved the $50 contribution.

Driver in fatal Belleville crash remains 'serious'

A 19-year-old Van Buren Township youth remains in serious condition at Wayne County General Hospital suffering from injuries incurred in a two-vehicle collision in Belleville last Wednesday in which two girls were killed.

David A. Weinkoff, 6630 Morton Taylor Rd., suffered severe multiple injuries when his auto collided with a Van Buren Township school bus on Belleville Road near Tyler at about 7:20 a.m.

The two passengers in his car, Cheryl M. La Pointe, 16, of 45264 Robson, and Robin L. Janos, 15, of 46449 Ecorse Rd., were killed. Weinkoff was driving the girls to class at Belleville High School.

Wayne County Sheriff's deputies said the accident occurred when Weinkoff pulled out to pass another vehicle, lost control of his car and slid into the front end of the bus.

Deputies said the bus driver, Leroy B. Smith, 54, of 45215 Tyler, had just left his home to pick up passengers and the bus was empty. Smith suffered minor injuries and was treated and released at Wayne County General.

Funeral services for Miss La Pointe were held Saturday at the Baum Funeral Home in Belleville, with the Rev. Lawrence Umfleet officiating.

Burial was in Hillside Cemetery, and eight of Miss La Pointe's classmates acted as pallbearers.

She is survived by her parents, John and Janette La Pointe, a sister, Donna, 13, and three brothers, John 10, Joseph, 9, and Scott, 1.

Services for Miss Janos were held Monday from the Roberts Brothers Funeral Home, and a Requiem Mass was said at St. Anthony's in Belleville by the Rev. Raymond Skoney.

Burial for Miss Janos also was in Hillside Cemetery.

She is survived by her parents, Edward and Delores Janos, and a brother, Edward D.

While his mother, Mrs. Jerry Ballard of Romulus, took the more than 20 free health screening tests at the United Foundation Healthorama, little Chris Ballard found a friend at the Healthorama child care center. Holding Chris is Janet Barbara of Redord, one of several Thurston High School students who volunteered to help at the event last week. Another Healthorama will be held at Olympia Stadium May 31-June 5.

Hayti helps send five Africans to school

Parents, teachers and children at Hayti Elementary School in Romulus are playing important roles in the education of five youngsters in a village in southern Africa.

It came about when Mrs. Ruby Owens, fourth grade teacher at Hayti School, received a letter from her son, Jim, who is in the Peace Corps.

Jim, who was graduated from Romulus Senior High School in 1967, had completed his work at Eastern Michigan University and volunteered for service in the Peace Corps. He was among the first to be allowed quarters in Johannesburg, Union of South Africa.

In his letter, Jim wrote that children could not attend school in the city of Mochudi, Botswana where he is stationed unless they were able to afford tuition of $28.60 a year. Few, Jim said, could pay the amount.

For two weeks, Hayti children, teachers and parents collected money in canisters for the "Botswana Project," raising almost enough money to send two students to school for a year.

The PTA made up the small difference and added enough for another student's tuition. The fourth and fifth student are sponsored by Mrs. Owens and the Carl Romano family of Middlebelt Road, Romulus.

County can't resolve shooting probe question

A lengthy floor debate by Wayne County Commissioners has failed to resolve the question of whether or not the board is in favor of special investigators to head a grand jury investigation into the March 9 clash between Detroit police and sheriff's deputies.

The question has divided the board since eight commissioners, acting as individuals April 5, asked the 17-member grand jury to provide prosecutors and legal counsel independent from the office of County Prosecutor William L. Cahalan.

Opposing commissioners want Cahalan to continue serving the grand jury, in accordance with statutory provision, although he has already conducted his own investigation.

At their April 20 meeting, the commissioners referred the matter back to their Public Safety and Judiciary Committee for further study. The committee plans to hold a special meeting with Cahalan and Sheriff William Lucas in attendance, said Reilly. A date has not been set.

Commissioners who favor independent prosecutors argued that Cahalan would be forced into an embarrassing position if he served the grand jury.

Montgomery, who lives with his parents in Romulus, is a combat veteran of Viet Nam. Serving with the infantry, Montgomery was awarded two Bronze Stars and an Army Commendation medal for heroism in battle.

When Doug came back to the world last year, he found a dried-up job market into which a basket full of medals couldn't help him.

Doug tried to get back into school, but his veteran's benefits got bogged down in red tape," Robertson said. "He couldn't find a job and pretty soon he got desperate."

Montgomery and Higgins, who lives in Belleville, never had any intention of hurting anyone, Robertson said. They supposedly agreed to help their life-long friend Spencer in his quest for money to support his family.

They reportedly used a sawed-off shotgun held up Seitzis Market in Sumpter. On April 16, at 2 a.m., bandits using the same method of operation robbed the Canton Party Store of $245 and escaped.

On Friday, at 12:30 a.m., two clerks at the Ecorse Road Party Store in Romulus said they were held up by two young men wearing masks and carrying a shotgun.

At 3 a.m., Dearborn Heights police arrested three men who, they said, had thrown a shotgun out of a car on Van Born Road.

When Spencer, Montgomery and Higgins were turned over to Robertson and Detective Gerry Murphy, they confessed to all three robberies. They face an examination on the charge Thursday in Romulus's 34th District Court. They could go to prison for life.

Detective Robertson hopes they won't, and says he will do everything he can to help them.

"Here are three kids that have never been in serious trouble in their lives," he said. "I sure don't condone what they did, and if they've lied to me I'll run them into the ground."

"I think they need a break though, and I'm going to do my best to help them get it."

never be able to meet the annual debt and will force the county to levy a tax to pay off the debt."

Mayor Smith added he had joined the suit out of fear that small cities in the county may find themselves facing higher interest rates on bonds they wish to sell.

The City of Belleville, he reported, plans to sell $1.5 million in sewer construction bonds this summer.

Mayor Smith pointed out the pledging of Wayne County's full faith and credit to back the proposed stadium bond issue would lower the bond rating of Wayne County. "This would increase the interest, rate on future bond sales for the City of Belleville an all Wayne County," he said.

Smith also stated he objected to financing the stadium without the voters' approval.

"I question the financing condition of Detroit and Wayne County to build a 'white elephant.' If Detroit wants a stadium, let them build it."

In commenting on the lawsuit, Thomas B. Adams, chairman of the stadium authority, said, "I don't understand how they characterize the stadium as a private business."

"It will exist to benefit the Loan for library

NEW YORK — The State Dormitory Authority has approved a multi-million dollar loan to help finance construction of a library-learning center at the Brooklyn center of Long Island University.

Work on the $9 million building is expected to start in June.

The five-story structure will provide reading areas on three upper floors. The lower floors and basement will be used as an audio-visual center, lecture hall, theater and television studio.

entire community. It will attract people downtown and strengthen the tax base," Adams added.

The multi-sport complex is to be built on 34 acres of land, located west of Cobo Hall. It will contain seats for 55,000 baseball fans for 60,000 football fans and up to 28,000 for smaller attendance sports and activities.

The stadium will contain parking spaces for 2,500 cars on a plaza deck. A 2,000-car parking garage is planned two blocks away from the stadium at Lafayette and First streets.

The proposed stadium construction is involved in a second lawsuit. Two weeks ago, Lansing Attorney Zolton Ferency instituted a suit in Lansing charging that the state legislature should have passed the new state racing bill - to help finance the stadium by a two-thirds vote of the House and Senate, rather than by a simple majority vote.

Reps. Marvin R. Stempien (D-Livonia), Joseph Forbes (D-Oak Park), Edward Mahalak (D-Romulus) Philip O. Mastin (D-Hazel Park) and Joseph M. Snyder (D-St. Clair Shores) all votes against it.

That summed up the position for Mastin and the other four, a stance that didn't even state how any of them feels about forced busing.

Stempien, majority floor leader, said the only redress for anti-busing crusaders is in the federal courts or in Congress, where President Nixon's own busing ban is in trouble.

Politicians do political things in an election year. It's a law of nature.

But the anti-busing resolution turned down by the House served neither reason nor politics.

Plants, Williams recommend better police traffic training

Proposals for better utilization of police manpower in traffic control, improved training for police traffic enforcement, and removal of traffic cases from the criminal court system are among recommendations in the report of three reports of the Michigan Conference on the Problem of Driver and Traffic Safety.

The report was submitted by Col. John R. Plants, director, Department of State Police, who served as chairman of the Conference Law Enforcement Committee, and Supreme Court Justice G. Mennen Williams, chairman of the Courts and Prosecution Committee.

Col. Plants said the conference urged the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP) to conduct research to establish criteria for assignment of police manpower for a total traffic supervisory program. The conference study concluded the presence of police officers reduces traffic violations, thus affecting traffic accidents, but "to date there is no criteria for assignment of police manpower even to a specific traffic situation."

The conference also recommended that until the IACP completes comprehensive research, the Michigan State Police establish interim guidelines for use of police manpower for traffic purposes.

Justice Williams said the conference found that delays due to court loads and other factors often reduce the rehabilitative effectiveness of penalties for traffic code violators and discourage the fullest level of enforcement by police agencies.

The conference recommends that the governor establish a joint judicial, legislative and executive committee of state officials to find alternatives to handling traffic violations.

Justice Williams said the conference also found that in reviewing minor traffic cases, judges should not be tied to traditional penal concepts which have not been entirely successful, but should make greater use of probation to promote rehabilitation of the offenders without the negative effects of confinement.

The conference report also recommended that:

— The legislature, in cooperation with the secretary of state and the attorney general, develop rehabilitative solutions for violators by providing for facilities of a minimum confinement nature, and offering education in driving responsibility.

— The attorney general and local prosecuting officials take steps to assure that a prosecutor is present for all traffic offense trials.

— The Supreme Court administrator carry out a survey of the state-wide court system as to the availability of driver records services and the nature of the need, sending the survey and a recommended plan to the secretary of state with a request to expedite provision of information by means of the computer system.

— The legislative committee in charge of revision and recodification of the Michigan Vehicle Code continue its efforts to complete it for enactment this year.

— The legislature authorize the state police to initiate a follow-up program to insure correction of mechanical deficiencies discovered in the random vehicle inspection program, and that the program be expanded.

— All police departments establish policies whereby all officers, when issuing a ticket for a moving violation, warning a motorist, or investigating an accident, obtain the status of each driver through the Law Enforcement Information Network system.

EVEN THE POETS among us were afraid to ask "again, 'Til winter comes...can spring be far behind?" "Far behind, yes. Then suddenly here it is and happiness...and color...are bursting out all over! Like the windows at MINERVA'S DUNNINGS (500 Forest, in Plymouth)! They're full of sailor-type dresses Ver-y Nautical-but nice! And HOW ABOUT Les Prints? OR, have you seen the Stripe-me-Reds? It's a wildly wonderful kind of Spring that fills Minerva's famous Windows with soft dresses you go absolutely "Knits" for...then runs the gamut from kooky bright pants to daring Lingerie, and back again to the kind of high-brow blouse you wear at your Wedding-in-the-park! The Astronauts couldn't have traveled farther than your imagination this week, if you've been thinking Spring, and Minerva's Dunning's! Fashion! And by the way: MOTHERS love the things you'll find there, too. With that big day just around the corner...and beautiful new things coming in all day long...it's a great place to start shopping for this belated Spring AND Mother's Day!

MOTHER NATURE changes the Carpets of awakening Earth...and somehow Spring becomes the natural time for us all to renew the look and feel of our surroundings. CARPETING is the single thing that can change the look and feel of a whole room...or your entire Home! And your new kind of floor makes you feel like it's a new kind of life! Maybe TILES...glazing shine with no waxing. Maybe ACCENT RUGS that bring huge sunbursts of color right into center stage and brighten up everything and everyone! Jay & Deloris Newell, at OLD TOWN FLOOR COVERING, 192 W. Liberty, in Plymouth have ideas and colors and floorstyles you've never seen...but will want to see in your own Home right now...This Spring! One visit will tell you this is NOT the common garden variety spot. But garden it is...fields of shags, plushes, sculptured and patterned carpets...100's of colors...luxuriously thick things...high-traffic answers...a whole new Spring "Crop" for you to pick from! Wake up your home for Spring...at Old Town Carpet! Or just stop by for Coffee 'n Cookies...and meet some nice people. They love Browsers!! You'll love THEM!!

MARY ANN ANDERSON is another name for Spring in Plymouth, by the way, it was ANDERSEN CRAFTS at 640 Starkweather, in Plymouth's 'Old Village' area, that Spring was born this year! Little old kegs went daffy-dilly with color and huge flower baskets bloomed brighter than the ART TRAIN they welcomed! Of course, creative and beautiful things always originate at Anderson Crafts, don't they? For this reason, many people who will be demonstrating on the train will bring their completed items (such as Macramé) to Anderson Crafts, where you will find not only the "How to" (classes keep filling up!) but the "What with" that makes each project a personal triumph! If you're taking the Family out to see the Art Train before May 6th, stop at Anderson Crafts (in the Bunk Furniture Bldg.) and see how easy — and rewarding — it is to do something interesting! And DO something for Mother's Day, that says "This is from ME, to YOU...because it was made specifically for this day! And to visit the Art Train...and Anderson Crafts THAT'S a Special Kind of Day, too!

IN THE SPRING a young man's thinking makes him just slightly more daring...more willing to try something really far out. And in the beginning...that's just what a Man's Wig Wardrobe seemed to be. Now suddenly, it has become as ordinary for the total Man to have a Wig Wardrobe as it is for him to have adequate changes of any other attire. MENS WIGS are fast outselling Womens Wigs in a boom market where the guy who "always wished" can really DO something about his appearance! Thicker hair...different styling...a wild color for a wild vacation...a NEW MAN...is what emerges when the Fellas "come along" to CARL'S CORNER, at the corner of Plymouth & Telegraph, in Redford! Millady is not to be outdone, of course, and will STILL find the world's most complete Wig selection right there, at Carl's Corner Th-H-E-N, while you're BOTH there: see the NEWEST His 'n Her PANTSHOP on the Fashion Scene! We took home matching pairs of 'veddy' formal brocaded trousers last month...wore 'em in New York the next day...and when we came back, everyone said "You can only get 'em in the big City!" "Nope!" we laughed... "We do our Big City Shopping right at Plymouth & Telegraph!" (Try It...You'll like it!)

AND SPRING IS the natural time to announce "something new under the sun"! New for the Michigan area, certainly. There are THREE prices to consider in Furniture buying, you know. A "Cash & Carry" Price means just that: pay for it...take it home...S.A.V.E a very good percentage! The "Delivered Only" Price is a good "middle" road, and saves Buyers a substantial amount, also. Then there is the "Deluxe" Price...the one presently used by most stores, regardless of your choice. Trust NATIONAL UNCLAIMED FURNITURE SHOWROOMS (in this area: 2955 Ford Rd., Garden City) to make the break that guarantees you even BIGGER Savings than ever before! Because, here, you may NOW choose your Delivery and Service...and, therefore, your PRICE! While each of us may have a good reason for a certain type of Service (and this is always right for the individual who knows his own needs best), this is the first time we are allowed to make such a choice! If you're a Shopper who picks just any package of fruit, don't shop National. If you're The Shopper who picks out the largest, sweetest apple-by-apple for your family...if you know exactly what you want...and H-O-W you want it, National Unclaimed Furniture Showrooms are for YOU!!

IS THE CHANGE of Seasons reflected at your table? Is your Family bored with heavy winter meals? Spring calls for something light and bright...something very "Gino's"! Because GINO'S BAKERY, at 31517 Plymouth Rd., just West of Merriman, in Livonia, is the place we count on for that finishing touch that makes us so proud of our own Meals! Huge luscious Dinner Rolls that make perfect Spring Salad Mates! Marvelous Pizza Bread with Pepperoni slices and melty Cheese inside! (You bring them out of a warming oven to the table and the OOOohs-and-Ahs continue through the last scrumptious bite!) Or big Apple Pastries to serve with tea some afternoon (Have the neighbor Gals in for them. They'll say "S-h-e really knows how to do nice things" forevermore!) And how about plump Doughnuts to welcome a guy in from baseball practice, Mom? A Gino's Doughnut says "I Love You" in a language all its own! Gino's Bakery and Spring are truly a natural combination...the kind that makes your family life complete. It's that "something more" that Mothers do. So important and, when you visit "Gino's"...so easy!

AND LAST BUT NOT LEAST... and just because it's Spring...and because we had so much fun doing this last Winter...we're going to run our "Brew Something Up" Contest again! Winner gets a really nice Dinner out, with our "Scene About Town" Columnist, Cap Patric! Mrs. Evelyn Smith, of Livonia, won last time...and might just make it again, so great is her Creative cookery! On the other hand Y-O-U might win...or there may be a tie (that would call for a party) and then you'd have Dinner at a Restaurant of your choice...see your picture in the paper...and enjoy the kind of neighborhood fame we hear Mrs. Smith still gets a smile out of. HOW do you get in on the fun? Like so: Get out your favorite MALT DUCK, adapt it to your favorite recipe. Simple! Try Apple Malt Duck. Try Grape Malt Duck. How did you use it? How did it taste? What did your Family think of it? To those of you who line up in Miami for the Weiners-steamed-in-beer every December...this Contest should be a cinch! To those who try cooking with a Malt Duck for the 1st time...it will be a REAL revelation! And send us the Recipe. MAIL IT TO SHOPPERS' DIGEST, P.O. Box 2482, Livonia (48151) And, like we say whenever we say "Malt Duck" Here's luck.

Arts and crafts show set in Milan

Artists and craftsmen from miles around are invited to participate in the Milan Arts and Crafts Club Third Outdoor Art Exhibit on June 11 and 12, noon to 6 p.m.

The shaded natural setting of Wilson Park will make a pleasant atmosphere for an afternoon of browsing, shopping and enjoying the many talents which will be at this colorful event.

Last year's more than 70 entries from all over southwestern Michigan included exhibits in oils, watercolors, pastels, graphics, ceramics, batik, macramé, spinning and weaving, barn and driftwood creations, stone art, wood carvings and many demonstrations. Also a children's art division will be held for awards.

David Sharp, associate professor in the Department of Art at Eastern Michigan University and well known as a teacher and lecturer will be this year's judge.

Among his many achievements is a presentation of his work in a permanent collection in the Detroit Institute of Art.

A few more features are being added to the program of events this year. The library will have a book sale. There will be a location where children can entertain themselves making creative things while moms and dads stroll through the exhibit. Also, the children can look forward to a kite contest and a funny, roaming clown.

This exhibit is open to all artists and craftsmen. Entry information may be obtained from Joan Cullip, chairman of the exhibit, 1000 North St. Milan, Mich. 48160 phone 439-7156.

County medical examiner hired

A nationally-prominent pathologist, Dr. Werner U. Spitz of Baltimore, will assume the post of Wayne County Medical Examiner on June 1.

Appointment of Dr. Spitz was made by unanimous vote of the County Board of Commissioners April 20. Currently, Spitz is the deputy chief medical examiner for the State of Maryland.

Hiring of Spitz ends a national search which began last November when the then-acting county medical examiner, Dr. Gilbert E. Corrigan, was asked to resign by the commissioners following public criticism of his office, including complaints of insensitivity toward families of deceased persons.

A professional credentials committee of six physicians appointed by the commissioners unanimously recommended Spitz for the post after Spitz was brought in as a consultant to recommend improvements at the morgue.

A native of Germany, Spitz, 45, was educated in Europe and Israel. He has held his Maryland state post since 1969 and is on the faculty at the University of Maryland medical school and Johns Hopkins University.

Dr. Taisja Tworek, acting chief medical examiner since December, announced before Spitz was hired that she was resigning to take a post at Detroit Memorial Hospital. She agreed to remain on the job until June 1.

The post pays $37,355-$39,105 in increments over two years.

By DAVE FERDON

"Up The Down Staircase" will be presented in the Romulus High School Auditorium at 9650 S. Wayne Rd. on Friday and Saturday of this week.

The performances will begin at 8 p.m. with tickets being sold at the door starting at 7 p.m. Tickets will be $1.50 for adults, and children under 12 will be admitted free with patrons. Students tickets will be on sale during school for $1 prior to the play.

The play presents interesting opportunity for the public to view attitudes within education. A school designed and built in downtown New York reflects the disadvantaged climate of any large city's educational institution. The set which you will see is a classroom in one of those schools.

Back stage areas will be used by members of the staff, administration, and student body in voicing their conscious and unconscious thoughts.

Sylvia Barrett is in her first classroom and soon makes her first mistake. The administration responds with displeasure, the students with curiosity. Bea Schacter, two stories above Sylvia, lends words of experience and wisdom. Anarchy abounds, confusion reigns, and those trivial chores that often restrict true teaching efforts leave Sylvia in a state of total frustration.

Mr. McHabe, the disciplinarian, soon enters and provides a challenge for Sylvia — Joe Ferone. Joe, one of many students with problems, is the target of McHabe's vindictiveness.

Paul Berringer, a stagnant writer and a not-too-dedicated teacher, varies the pace with original works, often pointed, often adding to the despair of the moment in the school.

Alice Blake believes in Paul. This belief dictates her fate.

Ayanna Nekimen of Africa, is tough, poignant, and afraid, as are all the students in their own way. Each needs those things that cannot be given, only felt. Each reaches a plateau during the story, some to remain, others to fail.

The school also has a troubled staff. Those who try, such as Francis, the school nurse, and Sadie, the domineering secretary, as sincere in their efforts, but daunted by the bureaucratic awkwardness that often results when all else seems to fail.

Charlotte, the school librarian and Ella, the psychologist, have become bitter over the years. Each has a way of dealing with bitterness. Their worlds reflect idealistic views of what their positions require. Unfortunately, idealism does not work in this world of stark realism.

Apart from the school is Sylvia's friend, Ellen. She will reflect the obvious but impossible solutions to Sylvia's situation. The climax brings a warmth to education you may not expect. Enjoy our story. But relish the insight it presents.

The cast of 30 from all grades and interests in the high school include Marc Engebresten, Norm Pritt, Sharon Lanier, Pike Walker, Jill Lynn Haislip, Addell Austin, Mark Lewkowicz, Nancy Smith, Cindy Galafaro and Pam Ondesh as administration and faculty members.

Student roles are filled by Mike Humphrey, Pat Martin, Lydia Cortes, Barb Gibas, Sylvia Neaves, Randy Williams, Carol Snyder, Mike Check, Colleen Durham, Mark McMann, Terri Renke, Donne Lucke, Betty Houvener, Karen Durham, Ivy Austin, Joe Bledsoe, Barb Curley, Elva Smithson, and Mary Ferrugia. A friend of Sylvia's is played by Marge Rohde.

Technical assistance comes from Cyndy Snyder and David Currie, who will run the lights. Many varied backstage contributions also were made by Al Culbreath.

This spring's production of the High School Theatre Arts Club is being directed by a senior from Eastern Michigan University, Ted G. Martin.

Ted also is a former student of Romulus and soon will be directing the efforts of the Romulus City Players, an adult theatre group formed in Romulus with the support of the Romulus Department of Parks and Recreation.

Mrs. Eugene Congdon, Joseph Gaydos and Mrs. Marcia Kalb. Both Mrs. Congdon and Mrs. Kalb supervised the art show. Approximately 450 students participated in the program.

Artistic, musical talents are displayed at BSHS program

The talents of approximately 450 students were represented in an art show and musical program held Friday night in the auditorium of the Belleville Senior High School.

The musical program, entitled "Musicolor," included a concert by the school concert, jazz and symphonic bands, in addition to a sale of student art projects.

The art show, the work of more than 325 students, included pen and ink drawings, pencil drawings, oil and water colors, ceramics, pottery and collages. Sales of art work were conducted during concert intermissions.

The program, under the direction of Greg Heuer, band director, began at 7:30 p.m. with a performance by the concert band. They combined "Colonial Portrait" by Morton Gould with a slide showing various colonial architectural scenes of the United States and Canada.

The high school's jazz band followed with a presentation of current pop tunes. The band's program also included a solo by four band members.

The symphonic band closed the program with demonstration and discussion of a musical selection and a solo on an accordion by Sharon Bonanni.

The art show was under the direction of Mrs. Marcia Kalb, Mrs. Eloise Congdon and Harold Sole.

The proceeds of the event will be used to send students to art and music summer camps.

The proceeds from the art sale will go to the students.

Starts tomorrow

Miller's 'Price' at Meadow Brook

Arthur Miller's drama, "The Price," will be the final play of the Meadow Brook Theatre season, opening Thursday and running through May 21.

In "The Price," which premiered in New York in 1968, Miller stages a taut reckoning between brothers who strip away old rationalizations, exposing buried motives to the scrutiny of the present.

John Ulmer, who is directing "The Price," says of it: "One must choose the ways to live one's life, and in choosing one way, the other ways are forever lost. Everyone pays this price of choosing, and its amount is in relationship to his desire and his potential for living."

Lawrence Hugo and Macon McCalman are playing the estranged brothers, Victor and Walter Franz. The role of Esther Franz, Victor's wife, will be played by Elisabeth Orion, and Albert M. Ottenheimer will portray Gregory Solomon, the antique dealer.

Lawrence Hugo, who toured with Dame Judith Anderson last season in "Hamlet," is known to television audiences as Mike Karr in "The Edge of Night." He has appeared on Broadway in "There's A Girl In My Soup," "Stalag 17" and "Born Yesterday."

Macon McCalman recently appeared in the world premiere production of "A Conflict of Interest" with Dane Clark and Walter Abel in Washington, D.C. He has appeared with the Repertory Theatre of Lincoln Centre, and will soon be seen in the Warner Brothers film "Deliverance."

Elisabeth Orion is a member of the teaching staff of the Academy of Dramatic Art, Oakland University, and has played many of the outstanding regional theatres in both Great Britain and Canada. Last summer she played the lead in the North American premiere of "Say Who You Are," and she has appeared in many productions at Meadow Brook Theatre in her four years of residence with the company.

Albert M. Ottenheimer, a co-founder of the original Seattle Repertory Playhouse, has appeared in many Broadway productions, including a 3½ year run as Doc, the druggist, in "West Side Story."

Performances for opening week are Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.; matinee on Saturday at 2 p.m.; and Sunday evening at 6:30 p.m.

The following weeks will have performances on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday at 8:30 p.m.; matinee on Wednesday at 2 p.m.; Saturday performances at 6 p.m. and 9:30 p.m.; and Sunday at 6:30 p.m. The theatre is dark on Monday.

Tickets can be obtained at Hudson's or by calling the Meadow Brook Box Office at 377-3300.

Meadow Brook Theatre, a resident professional company, is located on the campus of Oakland University.

Mercy exhibit begins

The Mercy College of Detroit Department of Art will hold its annual student art exhibit beginning today through next Wednesday.

The show is in the Conference Center on Mercy College campus at 8200 W. Outer Dr., Detroit. Hours are 1 to 8 p.m. daily. Admission is free.

Sculpture in stone, wood and clay will be shown. Of special interest will be bronze sculpture pieces which are produced by students in the campus foundry. Other work on display will include executions of design emphasizing color and textures, still life and figurative drawings done in pastels and ink, watercolor and acrylic paintings.

A portion of the exhibit will be devoted to crafts including stitchery, wood cuts, weaving, silk screened and block fabrics. New to the department this year is metalsmithing. Jewelry and raisings in copper, bronze, brass, silver and gold will be shown.

Student co-ordinator for the exhibit is Miss Mary Lou Janeczek, a sophomore at Mercy College majoring in art. Michael Frantz, assistant professor of art, is the faculty co-ordinator.

Church to begin band

A church instrumental group (orchestra and band instruments) is being organized at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville by Richard Coffelt, former Van Buren Public Schools music teacher.

Tentative rehearsal time is 7 p.m. each Saturday in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

"Junior and senior high school students and adult musicians who would like to share their talents in playing sacred music in praise of the Lord should attend the first meeting to be held on Saturday, May 6," Coffelt said.

Persons who plan to attend the first meeting are requested to bring their own instruments and folding music stands.

Downriver 'friend' deserves Oscar too

To the editor:

Academy awards were given to our movie greats last week, but I have an "Oscar" for a person who's a friend that's great in doing everyday things for people.

This is Mr. Crawford Tucker of the downriver area, who has spent many long hours in volunteering his time and talent in entertaining the physically handicapped and many others with his guitar playing and singing and his countless other helpful ways that are too numerous to list.

In our everyday way of life, we tend to forget our neighbor next door type of person and his achievements in helping his fellow man. Recognition should be given to what we call "average guy" who's great in society, like Crawford Tucker.

He has my vote and deep appreciation for being the sincere, helpful person he is. This vote has been carefully tallied and has never been approved by his many friends.

The winner of "Best supporting friend of 1971," and always, goes to Mr. Tucker.

A special award to The Romulus Roman for its continued support in publishing items of human interest to the public.

Belleville players lauded for 'Portrait'

To the editor:

This is just a short area of expression of thanks for another terrific production which the Belleville Community Players Guild staged on the 14th and 15th of this month.

"A portrait of Jennie" was really beautifully presented and made for an evening well spent.

Continued success in the guild's future productions.

Have you paid visit to a school recently?

To the editor:

Another Spring!

Our tulips are pressing upward thru lingering and sifted snow.

A pair of well preened doves, in dignity, rest motionless, on the high wires overlooking our bird feeder, patiently awaiting their turn while the blue jays, the grackles, the juncos and the restless sparrows, scramble for their share of breakfast; ... a dash of color is added to the scene as a brilliant cardinal flies thru.

How like we humans they are!

Framed within our picture window and, to the south is a gigantic magnet.

Within the hour, on time and on schedule, irresistibly, 1000 doors, where the little people live will swing open, as if by magic. Some of these little people will not have had breakfast, some are bewildered by conflict or dissident purposes; some unmoved by indifference; most of them, nurtured in the presence of high purpose and sustained ideals will be challenged and motivated, until their hearts pound with great expectation.

With a final reassuring, affectionate "quicker peck" on the cheek they relentlessly join the colorful parade to school.

To the building? No! The building is only a shelter, a place. The place is "alive". It is packed with our youth.

They, like the tulips, when unrestrained and uninhibited, their thrust is upward, regardless of the climate of their living.

The place is dynamic! It is "fired up" ... it is geared to specializations in growth. It is staffed with highly selective and quality people, who following years of preparation and training, have made a commitment to life.

They seek to preserve our rich heritage, to interpret the "lessons of history" and, to add to the quality of our lives. Within this place is a process! The by-products of the process almost defy measurement.

The complexity of the mechanisms, including the differences in the "raw products" ... our children, confound our descriptions. The daily evolution of ideas modify our definitions of yesterday; the rapidity of change at all levels of our living press in upon us, almost at the speed of light.

The changes themselves, in retrospect, have been and are, the by products of this educational process.

True, superiority in penmanship may buy a "vacation" in Jackson Prison, for check forgery. Or, the "top of the heap" in mathematics may become the "best embezzler" of a buck.

There is a wholeness in life, within nature's grand design that requires a union of our technical and our spiritual values. Without this human linkage of ideals, including a realistic understanding of our biological interdependence related to our survival, we endanger the legacies of the past. The educational process shares a part of this linkage.

Like all incidents of life, this process has within it two major characteristics ... a potential for growth or untimely decay. We ... all of us, shape its destiny by our loves, our loyalties, our hopes, our aspirations, our motives and our perception of the sanctions of life.

A public school ... any school has a vast linkage, a unity of thrust, which, if examined in perspective, becomes a miracle of our time.

Its counterpart may be found from Miami Florida to Alaska; from Maine to Baja California, or Hawaii ... our system of public education.

Within the stream of history it is very young. It is basic, it is fundamental to our way of life. Its promise of fulfillment is inseparable from the system of values that each one of us possesses.

The most important dollars that I spend are the tax dollars for education, my contributions to my church and the occasional gifts that relate to the relief of human need. These contributions are not born of pity or pious sympathy.

They represent a kind of compulsion, a kind of selfish concern over the well being of myself and family ... a kind of insurance, over riding the expense of ignorance, pestilence and bigotry.

Have you visited a school within or near your neighborhood recently? You own a "couple of bricks" in a piece of the school block, you know!

Tigers good, bad

India's tigers have killed as many as 60,000 sheep, cows and goats in one year, but they help farmers by keeping down the number of crop-eating deer, antelope and wild pigs.

Unfair labor charge hearing is tomorrow

The Michigan Employee Relations Commission will conduct a hearing tomorrow (Thursday) on an unfair labor charge filed against members of the Sumpter Township Police Board. The hearing is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m.

The unfair labor charge was filed by Council 23 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Workers, AFL-CIO.

The action is based on a complaint filed by the Sumpter Township Police Officer's Association on behalf of its president, Jerry Cox, 27, of 110 Carriage Lane, Sumpter.

Cox, 6½-year veteran and former sergeant of the Sumpter Township Police Department charges in his complaint that his dismissal from the police force by a trial board was due to his union activity and township politics.

Microwave cooking — there's a lot in it for you. You cook in one-fourth the time. Foods are tastier, more nutritious, because microwave energy seals in the nutrients and juices while bringing foods to their peak of flavor.

And that's not all. Litton microwave cooking saves you as much as 1½ hours a day in kitchen cleanup chores. Because you cook on paper plates or towels, ceramic and glass containers, you can practically bid goodbye to pots and pans. Oven cleanup is simple, too. Belleville wins 2 in a row Dearborn high school) were admitted into the expanded league at the beginning of the current school year.

However, it didn't look too good for Belleville on starting pitcher Vern Gowen as the Pioneers struck for three runs in the first inning. Gowen buckled down and gathered goose eggs the rest of the way, giving up four hits. He struck out 12 and walked two to earn his first victory of the campaign.

Belleville got to Dearborn's starter and losing pitcher, John Renko in the first inning. Rather, Renko caused his own downfall. He hit Mike Wilkinson with a wild pitch, then proceeded to walk Jim McCoy, Mike Kottke, Vern Gowen and Mike Dansard. When Renko also issued a walk to Tim Vance, Dearborn Coach Herb Schoroder had enough and yanked him for sophomore Robert Moss.

With two-away, Moss served a fast ball to Bob Johnson who cracked it for a two-run single, then Rick White got aboard when a wild throw hit him. Wilkinson up for the second time in the inning, cracked a two-run single.

Belleville added two more runs to its total in the third as Ed Branam walked and moved up on a pass ball. White again was the victim of a wild pitch and with two-away, Belleville pulled off a double steal. McCoy then singled in the two runs.

In their league opener at Bentley, Belleville hung on after scoring four runs in the first three innings to win a 7-3 decision from the Bulldogs. Livonia narrowed the gap to 4-3 after picking up two runs in the fourth and one in the fifth and that was all for winning pitcher Steve Theodore.

Theodore received relief help from Gowen who hurled the last three innings.

A two-run single by Dansard scored McCoy and Kottke in the seventh and the Belleville backstop trotted home when Branam singled in the final run of the game. The Tigers took a 1-0 first inning lead when Gowen singled home

Kottke, who had doubled to get aboard.

The winners made it 4-0 in the third as Larry Farr was safe on an error and moved to second when McCoy singled. Kottke, Gowen each accounted for run-scoring singles, then Dansard belted a double to score the inning's third run.

Of Belleville's nine hits, Kottke, Gowen and Dansard each collected two off of losing pitcher Bob Pouch who lasted four innings.

Belleville will host Plymouth on Friday before traveling to Edsel Ford next Tuesday for their first league encounter with Jon Davis' T-Birds. If the Tigers manage to get by Trenton (last night) and Plymouth, they'll be in great shape for the title drive.

Pro wrestling—they must be kidding

By TOM MOORADIAN
Daily Eagle Sports Editor

Pro wrestling is "big time wrestling" in Michigan. No one will deny it.

Whether pro wrestling is a sport, that is the rub.

Nearly 18,000 fans flood Olympia and Cobo Arena whenever the likes of Killer Cortez, Dick the Bruiser, Wilbur Snyder, Sailor Art Thomas, The Graduates, Billy Red Cloud, Nicolai Volkoff (CCCP), Moose Cholak and many others including Romulus' Al Barr perform.

And while these wrestlers are busy knocking heads at Olympia, another group of Masochists are busy luring fans to Cobo Arena. Among these notables are The Shiek, The Stomper, The Executioner, and the Fabulous Kangaroos.

As in most organized sports today, it seems there also is a schism in pro wrestling. One group pledges its allegiance to the World Wrestling Association, while the other pledges its loyalty to no one. Excuse me, to the organization that offers the best deals.

And if you have never caught a pro wrestling bout, you've missed a unique experience. I say that in all sincerity.

Pro wrestling provides the greatest entertainment since the "Biggest Show on Earth."

The head-banging a la Three-Stooges good guys vs. bad guys — the Black Jacks vs. Dick The Bruiser and Snyder; side shows with fans hauling off and walloping one another. And it's all in fun, the wrestling, that is, not the sideshows.

The fans love it. They wouldn't pay the prices they do to see the theatrics if they didn't.

But to classify pro wrestling as a sport, to crown a "world champ", that's something else. To say that the wrestling isn't a preconceived act — (you hammer me for the first fall, I hammer you the next) well ...

Sport is competition.

It is competition between one or more contestants who compete against time, distance, a rival, several rivals with a set of rules and penalties for the infraction of those rules. And the winner is declared by the best time, the best distance, the best results, the better of the scores or performances.

Heavens, pro wrestlers would starve if they were forced to play by the rules.

The fans they lure are people who enjoy "the ear-biting tactics" of a Valkoff, the hair-pulling of a Killer Cortez, the eye-gouging of a Black Jack.

And women can also get into the act. After all, the "lib movement" penetrated the ring long before it had politics: Princess Jasmine showed men folks that the so-called "fairer sex" also can be vicious. She "defeated" Paula Steele, who would make a pretty good defensive tackle on the Detroit Lions' Club any day. (Boy, I hope she doesn't get a hold of this column.)

Oh, yes, if you noticed the CCCP attached to Volkoff's name and are wondering about it then join the crowd.

Many of the fans were also puzzled and wondered if the veteran wrestler was a graduate of the CCCP camps that the second Roosevelt had organized during the Great Depression.

Believe it or not, the four letters are an abbreviation for the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

Who said, "The Russians are coming?" They're already here!

A "strange" thing happened on the way to Monday's Inkster - Rotary Club meeting - I discovered that Inkster High School may become a Class B High School next year. And not only could Inkster compete in "B", instead of "A", but many of the area schools could also become "B's", if a proposal is adopted by the Michigan High School Athletic Association's Council which deals with the classification of high schools.

Presently, schools are classified as Class A, if the high school has 1,200 or more students; Class B, if the student population is 550 to 1,199; Class C, 300 to 549 students and Class D - less than 300.

On the MHSAA's agenda for its May 15-17 meeting at Traverse City is a proposal which would reclassify high schools on "a percentage basis." The top 25 per cent of the state's high schools (again, according to student population) would be Class A; the next 25 per cent, Class B, and so forth.

"There are five categories that will be considered," said a spokesman in the MHSAA office. (Al Bush, the MHSAA director was somewhere in the Upper Peninsula). "There is nothing definite, as yet, cautioned the spokesman, "but these things will be discussed."

Inkster, Robichaud and Romulus are small "A" high schools, and any reclassification on a percentage basis would undoubtedly mean they would drop into the "B" ranks.

Inkster vs. Rouge vs. Romulus for the state Class B basketball title - bring on next year, folks.

And speaking of basketball, we would like to publicly thank

Eagles win first meet

Willow Run becomes Romulus track victim

The long season seems a little shorter for Romulus head track coach Jesse Merriweather whose Eagles broke the victory drought last week. Taking eight out of a possible 15 first places, Romulus stopped former Twin Valley Conference rival, Willow Run 68-53 to chalk up its first win of the season.

Tomorrow Merriweather's Eagles will run up against defending Class B state champs, Ecorse.

"It was nice to win this one," commented Merriweather afterwards. "We have a bunch of freshmen and this victory will help us snap out of our doldrums."

Darryl Gooden, one of the bright spots on this year's inexperienced team, cashed in on his performances in the shot put, pole vault and high jump for three of Romulus' eight firsts.

He tossed the shot 49 feet, 5 inches, and also high jumped 5 feet, 10 inches and vaulted 11 feet in carding the triplicate. Teammate

Michael Darden was the top broad jumper at the meet, reaching a distance of 17 feet, 10 inches.

Romulus also won the 880-yard relay with Richard Bell, Cleathas Nesbit, Jeff Landers, and Erwin Gibson who combined for the winning time of 1:46. The mile relay of Tony Owens, Don Richman, Michael Darden and Sam Lipford was clocked in 4:11.

Gibson also won the 100-yard dash in 11.2 while John Trump covered the 2-mile in 11:06, the best for the meet.

Earlier in the week, River Rouge managed to snatch a 68-35 dual meet decision from the Eagles who collected a total of three first places, two of those by Gooden. He leaped 10 feet in the pole vault competition and registered a toss of 50 feet, 2 inches in winning the shot put.

Trump was the only other local winner. He ran a 11:05 for the 2-Mile.

Golf league seeks senior citizens

There's still time to register for the Senior Citizens Golf League that will play out of Fellows Creek.

Ken Barnhill, the league's organizer, said that some 13 senior golfers have committed themselves to play in the Friday League.

"We would like to start league play when we have 32 golfers," said Barnhill, "and we know there are many players who just haven't heard about the league as yet."

Golfers from Wayne, Westland, Romulus, Belleville, Inkster, Livonia, Plymouth, Garden City, Canton Center are invited to (Continued on Page B-2)

LOOKING GOOD - Vitold Kaminskis, the dean of area baseball coaches who has 24 years of prep baseball history behind him, views the field. Belleville got off to a good start in the expanded Suburban 8 Conference as the Tigers chalked up two straight, whipping newcomer Dearborn, and old rival, Livonia Bentley.

Huron '9' continues to skid

Huron's ball field is submerged under water, so the Chiefs, instead of playing the role of hosts, were guests of Airport last Friday.

But Coach Ron Smith wished he had stayed at home.

Committing seven infield errors and managing but three hits, the New Boston high school was kayoed by Airport 9-1. Huron remains winless in the league after four frustrating starts.

"The rains really hit us hard," said Smith, "our field has been under water all week long so we couldn't get in any practice. And it sure looked like we needed it against Airport."

Ron Thompson was tagged for nine hits and his mates let seven infield miscues roll past them as Airport tallied three times in the second inning, four in the third and add two more in the fourth.

Huron grabbed a 1-0 first inning lead when Jamie Hinojosa walked and moved to second on Larry Smith's fielder's choice. Then Dana Kemp singled in the run.

Mario Garcia and Chuck Pearson also singled to account for the three hits off of winning pitcher Steve Stamper. Pearson, who has rapped out four hits in 10 appearances at the plate for a .400 average, and Kemp, with eight hits in 18 trips, lead the Chiefs at the plate.

Huron will try to snap out of its doldrums tomorrow at Bedford. They'll host conference leader, Blissfield, on Friday, if the rains don't interrupt the schedule.

Umps needed

It's the last call for those who wish to umpire baseball games in the Romulus City Hall, located at 11111 South Wayne Rd. The league will begin play sometime in June. For further information, please contact Mrs. Gladys Finch at 941-8618.

Bowling league makes history

In sports there's a first time for everything.

And the Romulus Teachers' Bowling League discovered this fact last week when the championship race ended in a "dead heat" for the first time in the history of the league.

Wizgird's and Carr's finished the regular season with identical 66 points, dropping 46.

Later this week the league will stage a roll off to determine the championship.

Meanwhile, Irene Abdo bowled a 137 triplicate to climax her regular bowling season and 200 plus games were turned in by Joel Carr (202), Richard Brown (211), J.T. Washington (211) and Richard Wizgird (237).

Wizgird's 237 also stood up as the individual high game for men while Mary Peterson's 197 is the best for the girls in the same category. Team No. 9 carded the high game for a team as Richard Brown's minions rolled a 523.

The team also bowled a similar score 1st week. Brown's also rolled a 1405 series.

Unbeaten Huron thinclads set pace

New Boston Huron High School remained the team to catch in the Huron Conference track circles as Coach Keith Reed's Chiefs tripped up Grosse Ile 69½-53½ to capture their second league and fourth over-all victory of the current campaign.

Spurred by the double victories of Dan Clark and Roger Mills, Huron cashed in on nine events and was able to overcome their poor showing in the field to overtake their league adversaries.

Bill Grover's heave of 37 feet, 4 inches on the shot put gave the winners their lone victory in the field. Clark tied the school record for the 880-yard run when he finished first with a 2:03.0, just nipping teammate Ed Fakhoury at the wire. Fakhoury was second with a 2:04.6.

Clark also ran a 52.5 in winning the 440-yard dash.

Mills sprinted to victories in both the dashes, winning the 100 in 10.2 as he edged his way to the finish line before mate Dave Durham who was clocked at 10.3. Mills also beat Durham in the 220-yard dash by one-tenth of a second. The winning time was 24.1. Durham had a 24.2 while Pawalec registered a 24.3.

Sophomore Mike Sobodash did an excellent job in the high hurdles as he finished first with a 16.6 effort.

Sports Meridian

the Inkster Rotary Club and its president, Tom Powers, superintendent of the Cherry Hill School District, for making an awards night possible for the top basketball players from the three high schools in the city.

The recipients: Andre Richardson (Inkster), John Dillard (Robichaud), and Jim Kubiak (Cherry Hill) are outstanding selections. Not only should these boys be congratulated for a fine job, but also the coaches who have devoted so much of their time in making these youngsters fine athletes and men.

If only more organizations in our area would get involved with youth today, I am sure that the so-called "generation gap" you hear so much about would quickly dissipate.

Westland will have the unique honor to host the state Babe Ruth Baseball Tournament this year. That tourney will be played the latter part of July at Westland Jaycees' Park.

And the city is preparing to host eight district champions, who will fight it out for the state title.

"One interesting facet of this tournament," says Joe Seibold, a member of the Westland Youth Athletic Association which has the prime responsibility of staging the tournament, "is that these kids will be staying at the home of foster parents."

Most of the kids will be housed with members of the WYAA "but if there are any folks who would like to host some of the kids we would gladly talk to them."

Contact Larry Kholmman, at 722-2844, for further information.

Oh, yes, Westland Mayor Eugene McKinney had this little remark for the local Babe Ruthers after he signed the contract with the state officials to set up the machinery to organize the tournament.

Glancing at the beautiful championship trophy, Mayor McKinney said: "And we better win."

Detroit Piston Coach Earl Lloyd is telling it like it is these days.

And isn't holding back the punches.

"When you're losers, then you have to make changes," said Lloyd last night at the Inkster Rotary Club gathering. "I'd trade anything and everyone, even my mother, to make us a winner."

Elaborating, he pointed out that I have four untouchables on this squad, but again if you lose 56 games like we did this year, you just can't bring the same team back.

Lloyd said that the injury to super-star guard Dave Bing had "incapacitated" the sharpshooter, "but with one he (Bing) was still better than most of the players we had on the bench."

Bing injured a retina in his eye that required surgery and sidelined him for the early part of the season.

"Losing is brutal," continued Lloyd, "and I had 56 horrible deaths this year and when you're losing you're constantly looking over your shoulder for that pink slip."

"And people talk about motivating teams. Well, I don't buy that. I have players who are making $100,000 a year and I have a motivate them. If that salary doesn't motivate them, nothing will."

But the rookie Piston coach, who stepped in when Bill van Breda Koff bowed out unexpectedly early at the start of the 1971-72 campaign, was also puzzled by the "new breed" who refuse to show any emotions.

"I'm mad when we lose and I would like to see my players mad, too. When you see your fans laugh at you, it's disturbing, but these guys don't seem to care."

"And they'll be getting huge sums of money to play. Heck, they say that there are rumors that our club is going to be sold. Who's going to pay $6 million. I tell my players, to buy you and me."

"The guy would have to be nuts."

Though Lloyd painted a grim past, he is hopeful for the future.

"We're going to have a winner next year. And you can quote me on that."

Under fire midway in the season when he was accused by Howard Komives, a veteran Piston guard, of trying to trade off all of the white players which stirred racial controversy, the Piston coach said, "I have always had good relations with the press and we try to handle our problems inside our family. What happens on our team should be our business."

A former collegiate cage star who knows all the ropes of pro basketball, Lloyd views the present war of leagues as detrimental to the game.

"The only solution is merger," he said, "we must merger in order to survive."

And if there were any bright spots in his year's last place Piston performance in the NBA's Mid-West Division, Lloyd feels it was the effort by Curtis Rowe.

"Rowe is probably the brightest spot I had and he has an excellent mind and big heart."

And who are "The Untouchables" on the Piston squad?

The Piston coach refused to answer.

But you can bet, he'll do anything to get the Pistons to play championship caliber ball.

Pilot blood bank program in works

A pilot program directed towards the ultimate establishment of a single supplier of blood needs for area hospitals is now in progress at Outer Drive Hospital in Lincoln Park, one of four hospital units operated by the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA). Annapolis Hospital in Wayne is a member facility. "We are working closely with the Southeastern Michigan Red Cross Blood Center on this project," said administrator Duane E. Johnson. "Hopefully, this center will become the sole supplier of the needs of the blood bank service at Outer Drive, and eventually all four of the PCHA hospitals.

"We are convinced," added Johnson, "that if this pilot project works out successfully it will virtually eliminate many of the problems we currently experience in obtaining blood for our needs at Outer Drive and our other PCHA units. It is not uncommon under the present arrangement for our laboratory people to have to make a half dozen calls or more to various blood suppliers in order to obtain the type of blood required."

Johnson reports that Dr.

Hugo Quiroz, pathologist, and director of the laboratory at Outer Drive, is working with Dr. Harlan D. Anderson, technical director of the Southeastern Michigan Red Cross Blood Bank program, on the details of this project.

Johnson emphasizes that as the sole supplier of Outer Drive's blood needs -- the Red Cross Center -- would not only take care of the routine day-by-day needs but also would be responsible for supplying emergency needs. Outer Drive currently uses about 1,400 pints of blood a year.

Dr. Quiroz also stresses that incidental to the agreement, an educational program will be launched at Outer Drive, directed to the medical staff, with the intention of up-dating the concepts and uses of blood and blood products.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES B. NICHOLSON

In Dearborn

Nicholson-Westphal vows are solemnized

On returning from their week-long honeymoon in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, the newly wed James B. Nicholson took up residence in Dearborn where the bride is employed by the Selective Service System. The bridegroom is an employee of Duvall Paper Products in Detroit.

Barbara L. Westphal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Westphal of 29276 Smith Road, Romulus, became Mrs. Nicholson in a March 18 ceremony at St. James United Church of Christ in Dearborn. For the double ring rite, read by the Rev. Calvin Klumb, she donned the dress which her mother had worn at her own wedding 38 years ago. Fashioned of ivory satin, the ankle-length gown was made along princess lines with an oval neckline and bishop sleeves.

The cathedral-length veil she wore was banded in wide Chantilly lace and held by a lace cap. It was worn 37 years earlier by her God-mother, Mrs. Wilbert Schultz of Detroit.

COMPLETING HER bridal finery was a cascade of white roses, carnations and fugi mums.

Susan Westphal was her sister's honor attendant in a princess-line gown of Nile green chiffon over crepe. The bodice, fashioned with a bolero effect, was styled with a stand-up collar, and long sleeves, the cuffs of which were covered with lace and woven with Nile green ribbon.

She wore a matching green velvet bow with a wispy veil and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and green ivy.

Her ensemble was duplicated in turquoise for the two bridesmaids, Betty Nicholson of Dearborn and Lois Westphal of San Francisco, sisters of the bride couple.

SIX-YEAR OLD Cynthia Westphal, daughter of the Ronald W. Westphals of Elmhurst, Illinois, was her aunt's flowergirl in a dainty mint green empire frock designed in floor length with short sleeves. The bride's nephew, three and a half year old David A. Westphal, son of the William H. Westphals of Ceresco, carried out the role of ringbearer.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks W. Nicholson of 4661 Palmer, Dearborn, asked George E. Setter, Jr. of Jackson to be best man. Ushers were William H. Westphal of Ceresco, brother of the bride; and Carl Chorvian of Dearborn.

Some 90 guests gathered at Debby's Restaurant in Allen Park for the reception which followed. Mrs. Westphal greeted friends and relatives in a lavender ensemble with black accessories while Mrs. Nicholson received in a powder blue costume with black accessories. Both were presented with corsages of white roses.

Barbara is a 1967 graduate of Romulus High School and Jim earned his diploma from Fordson High in Dearborn in 1956.

Kiwanians have date at Fisher

BELLEVILLE KIWANIANS and their wives were treated to a 'birdseye view' of the countryside last Tuesday evening as they traveled via a chartered scenic cruiser bus to the Fisher Theater in Detroit.

The popular musical, "No, No Nanette", was the production which prompted the Club's annual spring ladies night. Planned by first vice-president, Don Meyer, the show was followed by an after-theater menu and socializing at "Topinka's" across the Boulevard.

Sharing the evening with Don and his wife, Jean, were Irv and Vivian Wallace and their daughter, Jill; the Doug Cullins and their guests, the Frank Matons and Tee Amerman; club secretary Jim Fitch and his wife, Carol; the John Fords, and the John Touses.

Still others were Art and Joy Hill, Ed and Mary Anne Hudge, Bud and Frances Stapleton, club president Don White and his wife, Avis, and Dick and Vivian Wood.

Completing the reservations were the Gerry Millers, the Bob Russells, the Bert Smiths, the Dick Krugs, and Marie Domick.

Thirteen is lucky for Phil

TURNING 13 WILL, no doubt, be remembered by Philip Youtsey for a long time since his parents, the Robert Youtseys of St. Aloysius Street, Romulus, pulled a successful surprise party in his honor Friday evening, April 14.

Seventh grade classmates from St. Aloysius School came to help celebrate the event and enjoyed dancing along with pizza and traditional birthday fare.

In on the hush-hush plans were Pam Mapes, Cathy White, Mary Glaab, Mary Beth Poulin, Paul Hess, Tim Rash, Randy Laskaska, Mike Wojack, and Greg Glinski.

Maid of honor is shower hostess

PATTY RITCHIE came home from Michigan State this past week-end for the express purpose of hosting a bridal shower for her close friend, Lynne Orr, at whose May wedding she's to be maid of honor.

A dozen guests gathered at the Ritchie home on Grove Road Sunday afternoon to present Lynne with gifts for her future home. Games were played and prizes presented to the honoree; Jean Herschman of Ann Arbor; Rose Keilhacker of Wayne, one of Lynne's bridesmaids, and Lee Smith of Belleville.

The bride-to-be was then asked to cut the decorated sheet cake which was served with chocolate fondue, punch, coffee, nuts, and candies. Adding a spring touch to the shower was a low bowl of fresh pink carnations, tiny pink rosebuds, yellow and white daisies, blue bachelor buttons, and baby's breath.

As Lynne unwrapped dishes, blankets, linens, and other miscellanea, the group listened to plans for her May 13 wedding to Gary Vaughn of Belleville.

Others attending the party were Betty Orr, Mildred Vaughn, Brenda Vaughn, Kathy Renton, Louise Thetford, Luanne Smith, who was home from Kalamazoo College for the event; and Jan Renton, the latter two also members of the bridal coterie.

The First Baptist Church of Wayne has been reserved for the wedding.

Lockrow's daughter is here for visit

MRS. VIRGINIA FLORIAN recently visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lockrow of W. Columbia Avenue. An art teacher in La Grange, Illinois, she was sent here by her school district to attend the National Art Educators Conference held in Detroit March 26 thru 29.

She was elected western regional chairman for elementary art teachers representing 18 states in the Mid-West. The national conference was highlighted by an exchange of ideas between Canadian and American members since both associations held conferences simultaneously in Windsor and Detroit.

Mrs. Florian returned to her home with an accumulation of new friends and ideas.

Pat Williams opens kitchen gifts

A KITCHEN SHOWER honoring May bride-elect, Pat Williams of Romulus, was held Friday evening at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Harlow Crane of Trenton. Twenty-four guests, mostly relatives of the bride-elect, enjoyed a buffet supper at seven followed by table games and the making of a bride's scrapbook, page by page.

Pat opened her gifts under a canopy of white wedding bells and pink and green streamers. Helping with the packages were two future bridesmaids, Carolyn Crane of Trenton and Michelle Davis of Southgate.

Attending from Romulus were the honoree's mother and two sisters, Mrs. Richard Williams, Jennie and Donna. Pat will be married May 27 in her grandparents' home in Grosse Ile.

A reminder...

The Belleville Enterprise-Romulus Roman offices are now located in the 'heart of town'—in the old Township Hall Building at 405 Main St. We're in the front half of the brick structure from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

This little reminder is prompted by the many calls from patrons who've forgotten or just weren't aware that we're no longer at 330 Main. Come in and see us.

Sue Wilson is April bride of Jim Brooks

A honeymoon in northern Michigan followed the April 7 wedding of Susan Mae Wilson of 274 Clark Street, Saline, and James Drexell Brooks of the U.S. Air Force. The newlyweds are making their home at 506 W. Oklahoma Street, Enid, Oklahoma near Vance Air Force Base where Sergeant Brooks is assigned as an air traffic controller.

The Rev. Raymond Skoney presided at the five thirty ceremony which united the couple in holy matrimony. Michael Ives was at the organ to provide musical selections including the themes from 'Love Story', 'Summer of '42' and 'Romeo and Juliet'.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Wilson of 49891 W. Huron River Drive, Belleville, Susan was escorted to the sanctuary by her father. For her wedding day she selected an A-line creation of silk taffeta designed with Chantilly lace on the high-rise bodice with deep cuffs completing the full, bishop sleeves.

MRS. JAMES DREXELL BROOKS

A modified Camelot cap of Chantilly lace held the bride's chapel-length veil which was trimmed with matching lace and she held a bouquet of sweetheart roses, carnations and stephanotis.

APRICOT CHIFFON in the sleeveless mode was worn by the maid of honor, Mary Kay Duffy of Saline, the bride's best friend. Complementing her dress were a matching veiled headpiece and bouquet of apricot-tipped carnations and sweetheart roses.

Bridesmaids in flowered apricot organza gowns were the bride's two sisters, Sharon Wilson of Port Huron and Sandra Wilson of Milford; and their cousin, Mrs. Donald Friske of Lincoln Park.

Other family members taking part in the wedding were Shirley Wilson, eight, and Teri Lynn Brooks, 10, sisters of the bridal couple who served as junior attendants, and the bridegroom's two and a half year old sister, Lisa Marie, who carried out the role of flowergirl. All three were dressed in miniature apricot frocks.

BEST MAN was Albert Chie of Whitmore Lake. The corps of ushers included Darryl Brooks of Ypsilanti and Donald Wilson of Belleville, brothers of the bridegroom and bride; and Donad Friske from Lincoln Park.

At the reception, which took place at the P.N.A. Hall, Mrs. Wilson received in a pink knit dress with a matching brocade jacket while Mrs. Brooks, the bridegroom's mother, was in a pink suit. Both added rose corsages to their ensembles.

Both Sue and Jim are 1968 graduates, she of Belleville High and he of Lincoln High. Prior to her marriage, the new Mrs. Brooks, (a 1970 alumna of Mercy School of Nursing) was employed at St. Joseph's Hospital, Ann Arbor. Sergeant Brooks, who has completed a tour of duty in Vietnam, has been in the Air Force since 1968.

The Heidelberg Restaurant in Ann Arbor was the setting for the rehearsal dinner hosted by the bridegroom's parents.

Disney World is their honeymoon destination

St. Aloysius Catholic Church in Romulus was the setting March 25 for the ceremony which united Joyce Ann Ashley and Richard L. Evans, Jr. in marriage.

The Rev. Joseph Kernosek read the double ring nuptials before an altar graced with bouquets of white carnations and gladioli as well as tall lighted tapers.

The bride entered at 12 noon to the strains of "We've Only Just Begun". Walking to the sanctuary with her father, she was gowning in a Victorian style creation with imported Chantilly lace forming the illusion neckline on the little fitted bodice. The lace was also used above the elbows on the full, bishop sleeves and again as a border on the circular chapel train.

HER BOUFFANT veil of silk illusion was held by a matching lace cap and she carried cascading white carnations and yellow baby roses interspersed with green ivy.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ashley of 39341 Wade, Romulus, and the bridegroom the son of the senior Richard Evans of 3016 Carlton, Columbus, Ohio.

The quartet of attendants, preceding the bride up the aisle, were Pam Pistor of Romulus as maid of honor; Carol Rakotz of Inkster; Marsha Harden of Belleville; and Sandy Iseler of Allen Park.

Their identical frocks differed only in color, Mrs. Pistor's being in beige and the others in orange. Made of chiffon and taffeta, the empire mode dresses were styled with long sleeves and were worn with matching headpieces. Their bouquets contained carnations and baby roses in yellow and orange tones.

ASSISTING AS best man was Roy Pistor of Romulus with Gary Remeikis of Detroit, Walt Mack of Wayne; and Alvin Ashley, the bride's brother, forming the corps of ushers.

Pink carnations and roses were presented to both mothers of the principals with Mrs. Ashley wearing a long pink gown and Mrs. Evans a formal blue dress. A wedding breakfast was held at Holiday Inn, Romulus, following the ceremony with some 50 guests attending. At six thirty that evening, 300 friends and relatives gathered at Roma Hall, Livonia, for the reception.

Changing to a pink flowered dress and harmonizing accessories, the bride and her husband departed Metro Airport for a four-day honeymoon at Disney World in Florida. Since their return they have taken up residence in the bridegroom's apartment at 33402 Michigan Avenue, Wayne.

THE NEW Mrs. Evans is a 1969 graduate of Romulus High School currently employed at Federal Screw Works, Romulus. The bridegroom, who served for four years with the U.S. Marine Corps, was graduated in Columbus, Ohio in 1964 and now works for Earle Equipment Company, Romulus.

A few tips...

In order to process the news items submitted each week by publicity chairmen of various organizations and others bringing in information, we've listed a set of do's and don'ts which will make the handling of stories more simple.

DO type news if at all possible. If a typewriter is not available print (especially proper names or clearly write information.

DO use only one side of paper, preferably unlined typing paper.

DO include a name and phone number for reference.

DO leave at least a two-inch margin at the top and one-inch margin at the sides of your paper. This gives us room for corrections and instructions to the printers.

DO indicate Miss or Mrs. when using feminine names.

DO follow the four w's — who, what, where, when, and why — when sending in information.

DON'T worry about having items in story form, we'll take care of that as long as ALL the facts are there.

DON'T phone in lengthy items. We haven't the time to take long stories nor can we assure you of correct spellings when taken over the phone. F's sound like S, N like M, P,B,D,G,T all rhyme, and are hard to understand.

DON'T expect to have your story printed if its submitted after deadline. We do have to abide by deadlines in order to meet those set by our printers.

DON'T forget we supply wedding and engagement questionnaires just for the asking. Either call at our office or ask that one be mailed to you and we'll be happy to extend this service.

This funny world

"The first thing we'd better do is set up some form of government."

General tendencies: In the morning you can settle whatever decisions you want to make with others and take care of clothes and personal appearance. Afternoon and evening are splendid for investigating quietly whatever you do not understand and getting information you need to progress more quickly in the future.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You can come to a better understanding with others in a.m. if you discuss questionable points. Get your important responsibilities behind you quickly. Cooperate with mate in some joint venture. Be happy.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) You are able to finish some duty early in the day, thereby freeing time for being with an associate for some vital joint aim. Talk over that ticklish problem with another and get right ideas, advice.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Some venture has been proposed to you that is fine for you to enter into because it can bring excellent benefits in the near future. Gain the support of bigwigs for all of your projects. Use that kind, courteous manner you possess.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) If you butter up a family tie in a.m., you can then join with congenials later without worry or annoyance. Evening is excellent for entertaining kin. Don't forget to handle those vital business matters in the afternoon, though.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you schedule your routines well in a.m., you can follow through very intelligently, but be sure you do what kin expect of you in p.m. Make home more attractive then, too. Use that artistic sense you possess.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You can handle monetary affairs well in a.m. so you have plenty of time left for fun things later with friends. Get in touch with supporters and gain their favors at this time. Use all that charm you possess.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Morning can be free from worry but later financial affairs crop up that need quick attention or you could lose minor or major sums. A business expert can give you excellent advice on how to handle that immediate problem. Listen.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You are able to get the information now that will help you solve quickly and satisfactorily that problem that has been giving you a good deal of trouble. Forget practical matters in p.m. and have fun romantically. Dress well.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Good, devoted friends can help you gain personal aims that are important to you now. Accept invitations for the social affair you like and make your life richer and happier. Show you have excellent manners.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can get far better results now than for some time past whether it be in social, career or personal affairs, so start early, follow through. Bigwigs can give you the right advice you need. Contact them diplomatically.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have fine new ideas to discuss with key people, so forget that dull routine and do just that. Plan to make changes that are necessary. Also plan future trip you want to take. Preparedness makes it a success.

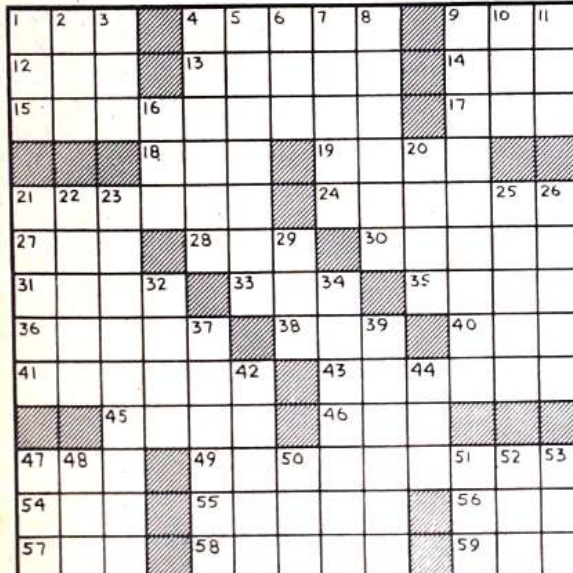

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Your intuitive faculties are working exceptionally well and can be most helpful in handling all of your practical and personal affairs. More affection shown to loved one pays off well. Make duty a pleasure, which is what it should be.

If your child is born today he or she will be one of those fortunate young people who will want to cooperate with everyone he or she comes in contact with, and for this reason your child will never have any difficulty communicating with others and getting what is desired, honestly and properly. Lack will never be known in this lifetime, but the spirit of generosity must be taught early for best results. Religion fine.

For community activities

GM begins awards plan

The General Motors award for excellence in community activities program has started at the General Motors Assembly Division, GMC Truck and Coach Division Warehouse and the Hydramatic Division, all located in the Ypsilanti area.

Announcement of the program was made in letters mailed to all employees' homes.

J.S. Garlic, plant city chairman, and general manager at Hydramatic, noted the program, which is in its second year in this area, is designed to recognize and honor employees of the three General Motors divisions who perform outstanding service for the betterment of their community through voluntary participation in civic, charitable and other activities.

In describing the program, Garlic said, "Throughout the years, countless numbers of our employees have devoted their time and energy toward making our community a better place in which to live, work and raise a family. Our new awards program will be our way of honoring such employees for their selfless and sincere work and at the same time demonstrate our support and interest in their endeavors."

All employees of these three General Motors plants, located in the Ypsilanti area, except those directly connected with the administration of the program, are eligible to be nominated.

The nomination period runs from now until midnight, May 15.

There is no limit to the number of nominations an individual may submit. Nominations may be made by employees, their families, members of service organizations or the general public.

Activities meriting nomination include participation in citizen's groups, youth programs, United Fund, or other community fund-raising campaigns, unusual acts of personal heroism or moral courage, service club projects in the community, interest and service in an elected or appointed public office.

Judging will be conducted by a screening committee composed of a top management panel, and final judging will be conducted by a team of top civic leaders. Announcement of winners will be made in late May, 1972.

Nomination forms are available at several locations throughout the plants for the convenience of the employees. In addition, they can be obtained by writing J. T. Lynch of the Hydramatic Division in Ypsilanti.

Catholic families urged to give to ADF drive

A half-million Catholic families in six counties this Sunday (April 30) will receive a 12-page, newspaper-type publication explaining ADF-72 (the 29th annual Archdiocesan Development Fund appeal).

Collections will be made from May 7-22 and are expected to total in the neighborhood of $2 million.

A message from John Cardinal Dearden, Archbishop of Catholics residing in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Lapeer, Monroe and St. Clair Counties, explains that contrary to a widespread belief, the ADF carries forward more than works of charity.

"Each year there are special charitable goals," Cardinal Dearden says. "Your ADF-72 gift, for example, will help bring cheer and comfort to the lonely aged. It will give a forward thrust in helping the retarded to attain useful lives. It will help trapped girls escape to a decent life."

Cardinal Dearden then pointed to expenditures of $541,967 last year in various areas of education, including that of the handicapped. He said the cost in 1971 of a ministry to college youth "at a critical period in life" was $212,321.

Religious education was among other areas cited as major costs to the ADF in maintaining traditional services to parishes in a way more economical and efficient than would be possible if each sought to provide the services independently.

No ADF goal has ever been set, nor is there a quota on gift size.

In a message, the ADF-72 lay-chairman, Charles L. Gehring, business-man and former Tiger all-time great, asks for teamwork by all solicitors, and the Rev. Father Francis A. Dietz, priest-chairman, urged his fellow priests to increase the size of their personal ADF donations.

Set-aside acreage accepted

Nick Smith, chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, has announced that all acreage offered for "set-aside" under all options available to participants in the 1972 Feed Grain Program will be accepted.

The Secretary of Agriculture made the decision to accept the additional acreage offered when recent reports of farmer's planting intentions showed only about 8 per cent decrease in feed grain plantings in 1972.

The additional set-aside will help offset another record feed grain crop in 1972 and will help achieve the secretary's goal of a set-aside of at least 38 million acres.

In making this announcement, Smith reported that a new record number of farms have signed up to participate in the 1972 Feed Grain Program and they have a new record base acreage included.

In Michigan, the sign-up is slightly less than last year but 82 per cent of the total Michigan feed grain base is on the enrolled farms and this is the same as in 1971.

Mr. Employer: You don't have to compare Workmen's Compensation policies!

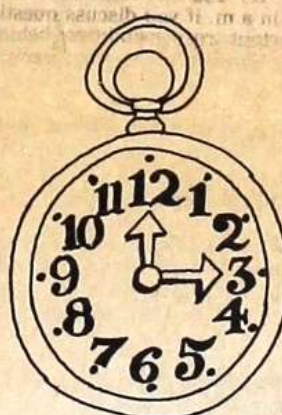

Why? Because all compensation coverage, including basic rates, is set by law. But there are still three ways to reduce your costs through the Citizens Plan. Advisory vote meeting slated

Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer will conduct an informational meeting on two advisory vote propositions to be presented to the township voters at the May 16 presidential primary election. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. May 11 in the Belleville Senior High School Auditorium, located 501 W. Columbia Ave., Belleville.

The township voters are being asked to voice their decision on the take-over of Belleville Lake with the establishment of a Building

Authority to own, operate and maintain it and surrounding land, including Edison Pointe Park.

The second advisory vote proposition relates to the proposed $120 million expansion of the Willow Run Airport into the world's largest air cargo terminal and general aviation airport.

The township is opposing the airport's expansion, initiated by the Wayne County Road Commission, owners and operators of the Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus.

April 15. Animal projects will be chosen by a committee at a meeting to be held by Edsel Beaty.

Greenfield Village is interested in having exhibits of crafts and projects suitable to the old time theme of the fair.

4-Hers, participating in the fair will report to the following: horses, John Ireland; livestock, James Hartford; dogs, Barbara Rooks; crafts, Janet Magraw; foods, Ruth Taylor; clothing, Virginia Melcher.

Walk-a-thon needs joiners, sponsors

If someone told you to "take a walk," you would probably get the hint that you weren't wanted. Well nothing could be further from the truth when the GM Men's and Girl's Club invites anyone who is interested to take part in the Second Annual Walk-a-thon to aid the March of Dimes.

The Walk-a-thon is scheduled for Sunday, May 7 beginning at 8 a.m. at Belle Isle. Last year's walk raised more than $67,000 for the March of Dimes. The money goes toward combating birth defects, including sickle cell anemia.

Each person who joins the walk is asked to obtain sponsors who pledge anywhere from 10 cents per mile on up for each mile the participant walks.

For example, if you walk 10 miles—course maximum is 17 miles—and your friend or colleague sponsored you for 25 cents per mile, he would owe the March of Dimes $2.50.

Joining more than 300 GM Men's and Girl's Club walkers will be such notable Detroiters as Gordie Howe, Sheriff William Lucas, Dick Purtan, former Miss America Pamela Eldred, Marvin Gaye, Bozo the Clown and Mr. Belvedere.

Anyone interested in obtaining a sponsor list should call Bud McMullen, 556-2065.

Non-voters asked to contact clerk

Van Buren Township residents who have not voted since 1968 or have moved from one precinct to another without notifying township officials are requested to contact the township clerk's office.

The township clerk's staff is trying to locate 707 township residents who have not exercised their voting rights since 1968 and especially during the last two years.

Registration reinstatement cards mailed to these residents have in many instances been returned and marked "undeliverable" by the post office.

A recent Michigan Supreme Court ruling requires the clerk to reinstate the 707 voters back on the registration books.

Mrs. Payne reported it is very likely that many of these persons are still in the township and have failed to notify the clerk's office of a change in address or precinct. The township clerk's office is located at 46425 Tyler Rd. The telephone number is 941-0434.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

Nationalistic leaders sometimes think of themselves as men of destiny. Throughout history, the world has suffered because of their flamboyant egotism, their exaggerated esteem of self importance. Hitler and Mussolini are only two examples. Their belief in personal destiny doomed humanity to a senseless and futile carnage. It was their destiny to be damned in history by men. God determined their destiny in death.

Today, the world is taking sides, sometimes changing sides. And we again see leaders with unyielding ego, self esteemed destiny. Compare the calibre of these past and present leaders with Abe Lincoln. When things were going badly during the Civil War, he was told everything would come out alright because God was on his side. His quick response was, "Whether God is on my side is of little concern. It is far more important for me to be in HIS side."

Lincoln's only concern for personal destiny was a prayed for destination in Heaven. Present day leaders and followers need more of this sort of concern.

Make sure your boat doesn't let you down

Spring had officially arrived only a few weeks ago, but the slightly warmer temperatures and the sight of snow and ice disappearing on the lake was like a shot in the arm to Joe and Fred, who had just spent a winter with the slush, salt and winter dirt of a large city on one of the Great Lakes.

Out of winter storage and into the water went Fred's 16-foot inboard-outboard. When he put it in his garage last fall he had washed it down and covered it with a large tarp. It had worked perfectly all last year and now, thought Fred, so, there was no reason for it to let him down on this beautiful spring day.

small boat to return to shore. The weather, which had been good when they set out, now worsened. Visibility in the 14-foot seas was reduced to about 20 feet and after five hours in the numbing storm Joe and Fred had very little hope for rescue.

Covering the three boys with a tarp to keep them warm, they watched themselves drift closer and closer to treacherous inshore ice jams.

This is a fictional presentation of an actual case which could have ended in tragedy but didn't. Luckily Joe and Fred had filed a float plan with someone who was alert enough to report them overdue to the Coast Guard.

After Coast Guard aircraft located them, a 36-foot search and rescue (SAR) craft was able to make the rescue despite much personal risk in the old, windy weather and minimal visibility.

Fred, Joe and the boys were lucky. Many other boaters are not so lucky. Engine or equipment failure accounts for about 60 per cent of the Coast Guard's search and rescue missions.

In early spring when the weather is at best unpredictable, it is wise to make sure your boat is in its best possible working condition before you put it in the water.

Waiting several hours for help in April is a lot more dangerous than waiting for help in July. Although both are dangerous and can be prevented, spring presents the additional problems of exposure to snow, wind, ice and low temperatures.

Most of the trouble can be prevented by pre-season maintenance and other proper precautionary measures. Following manufacturer's recommendations and keeping your boat and engine in good repair will help to make your boating trouble free.

A pamphlet called "Emergency Repairs Afloat, (CG-151)" can be obtained by writing to Commander (b), United States Coast Guard, 1240 E. 9th St., Cleveland, Ohio 44199.

To find out if your boat meets high standards of safety and has all the equipment required by law, ask a qualified member of the Coast Guard Auxiliary for a Courtesy Motorboat Examination. This examination is free and there is no obligation or penalty for failure.

Leader team program for urban kids continued

The successful Leader Team Program which was initiated last summer to enable college and high school students to conduct summer activities for urban children will be renewed this year from late June to late August.

That was the announcement this week from Claude Elliott, CYO social worker who serves as program coordinator.

Cooperating in the support of the program last year were 21 urban parishes, the Detroit Board of Education, the board's In-School Neighborhood Youth Corps, the United Community Services of Wayne County and the Detroit CYO.

In 1971, 31 college students and 370 high school students conducted social, sports, cultural and community-improvement projects in which 2,358 boys and girls from 5 through 13 years of age participated in 21 parishes and two community centers. A similar organization and operation is anticipated this year.

In this concept, the student-leaders run their own activities under the supervision of the CYO coordinator. They are given considerable latitude in deciding what activities they will offer the children.

Last year the projects included arts and crafts, tutoring, overnight camping, neighborhood improvements and a wide range of competitive and non-competitive sports.

"We are enthused about this leadership training concept," says Elliott. "The children and the leaders both profit from it. The kids had a lot of fun, and they may have learned a few useful things. Best of all, they had something good to fill their idle hours."

"The student-leaders gained something, too. They came to a new appreciation of their own worth and potential. They learned to accept responsibilities, to be punctual, to take reasonable direction and to get along with others."

"The parishes have made tremendous contributions to the success of this program."

MEA petition drive for tax reform continues

The Michigan Education Association (MEA) petition campaign for tax reform is under way.

It was reported Monday by MEA officials that many people are asking, "Why a petition campaign?"

Answering the question, MEA reports:

- Property tax relief and tax reform are long overdue in Michigan.
- Local millage issues are going down to defeat.
- The general public is fed up with the unfair burden of the regressive property tax.
- The courts across the nation are finding that the way property tax is used to finance the public schools is unfair to large numbers of children as well as taxpayers and is unconstitutional.
- The burden for public services should be shifted to a graduated income tax which more fairly reflects the individual's ability to pay.

The MEA has urged residents to support the tax reform as that every child in Michigan will have access to a good quality education regardless of their geographic location in our state or the economic background of their parents.

"Michigan must provide an educational system which will permit all our children to be well educated and properly prepared for the world in which they will live and work," the MEA reported.

"The issues of property tax relief and the removal of the ban against the graduated income tax are equally important. Each issue should be approved to achieve tax equity as well as educational equity. Permitting the voters of our state to cast separate ballots on the two issues is in the best tradition of our democracy."

Anyone interested in circulating or signing a petition should contact Jim Hart at the Romulus MEA office located at 2240 Middlebelt Rd., Garden City. If there are any questions, the office number is 261-2510.

METRO HEALTH PLAN

The Michigan Blue Cross & Blue Shield Metro Health Plan (MHP) is what is called group practice. Services are provided for you and your family by a staff of physicians working as a team.

Your health care is in the hands of an MHP physician, along with skilled nurses, highly-trained technicians and specialists from every area of medical specialization.

In addition to providing diagnosis, treatment, rehabilitation and home care, MHP provides preventive services to encourage your continuing good health.

MHP offers the same benefits and services formerly provided by c/h/a, including:

- PREVENTIVE CHECK-UPS • DOCTOR'S OFFICE VISITS • FAMILY IMMUNIZATIONS
- PHYSICIAN TEAMWORK • HOSPITALIZATION • EMERGENCY CARE

Individuals and families in the western Wayne County area will be served by Metropolitan Hospital West and the Metropolitan Health Center West, beginning July 5, 1972. The hospital will be at 28303 Joy Road, just west of Inkster Road, in Westland.

KEY TO INDIVIDUALITY — Glimpse past open gate welcomes visitors to charming entry court, combination patio-garden. Fence and double gate of 1x4-inch cedar boards screen out distractions, show rich grain through light stain; 4x4-inch cedar posts, 2x4 cap and 2x2 gate trim, are shade darker for distinctive contrast.

Garden gate may be answer to search for individuality

Row houses, standard plans, the "box" are realities that make a commuter fear he will someday pick up the wrong paper, try his key in the wrong lock, and wind up kissing the wrong wife.

Development housing is common and convenient, but even with alternate plans and color options, the usual front view of concrete walk, squared lawn and line of shrubs may be disappointingly conventional and lacking in privacy.

The key to individuality may be in sacrificing the clipped lawn (and mowing chores) for, literally, a different approach. Especially if the view is less than memorable, why not create and control a private view within an entry court?

A homeowner should check local building codes and apply for any required permit before walling himself in, but even the unskilled can design and build a smart (and simple) wall of wood, blending color and style with the house and landscaping mood.

The best location for screening may be well within property lines to allow for attractive landscaping outside as well as inside the new court. Beds of gravel, bark dust or smooth stones may replace the lawn as low-key, easy upkeep background for random plantings.

While the object may be to screen out noise and distraction, the wall needn't be forbidding. To insure

Even though you have the right to sell the condominium, you should know—before you buy it—whether there are certain restrictions to this right. These restrictions are formulated by an owners' association or a similar group that draws up the regulations for the entire project.

It is not only wise but imperative to know what every regulation is. There usually are dozens of them, relating to such things as pets, garage space and the facilities on the grounds. Ignore them and you are likely to be unpleasantly surprised at some later time.

Condominiums gain popularity

By ANDY LANG

Condominiums gain new adherents every day among both builders and buyers.

There are a few misconceptions about condominiums that need clarification. They are often confused with cooperatives. They are sometimes thought of only as units in apartment buildings. And they occasionally are considered a way of life without responsibilities.

Both condominiums and cooperatives have definite advantages over rentals because they enable the purchasers to take income tax deductions of taxes and interest just as with private houses.

When you buy a condominium, you get an individual mortgage for the space you occupy, whether it be an apartment, row house or even a detached house in a condominium community.

When you buy a cooperative, you purchase shares in a corporation which has a mortgage for the entire project and which assesses you for a portion of it according to the size and cost of your living quarters. In both cases, maintenance costs are separate from the mortgages.

If you decide to move from a cooperative, you must sell your shares. In most cases, the agreement calls for the corporation to get first crack at buying back the shares. Because this provision originally was designed to give the corporation complete

Backyard sculpture can add the right touch

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

That marvelous feeling of tranquility when strolling in a garden punctuated with statuary should give a cue for decorating our own backyards, Manuel Carbonell observed recently at an exhibition of his sculpture.

Many people on home and estate tours visit great gardens where they may admire the sculpture, but they may not apply the ideas observed to their own surroundings, he points out. Yet large formal gardens often are a series of small garden areas—terraces, ponds, lawns—that could serve as models for small backyards.

"Americans are not outdoor sculpture-minded as the Europeans and South Americans are, perhaps because marble and alabaster may be affected by weather. But brass can be beautiful outdoors when it has oxidized. And sculpture need not be expensive to be enjoyed."

Carbonell, one of the better-known sculptors, works in bronze, iron, aluminum and brass. After a show in Montreal he will go to Italy to work with carrara.

His brass ballet dancers and sea animals with their lithe forms are particularly intriguing to young people. One young gallery visitor commented that she loved the ballet dancers which she couldn't afford.

"At 20 young people shouldn't worry about their taste in art," he advised her. "Good taste cannot be acquired in a few years. It is developed over a lifetime of traveling, visiting museums, outdoor gardens and fine homes. The first pieces selected may not be considered great when a young person's taste finally jells, but they will have taken on meaning that makes them indispensable to her."

It is a message that might be applied to anyone planning an outdoor garden.

"Art is ignored usually until people reach a certain level of security, then they may regret they didn't buy less valuable pieces earlier," he observes. "From earliest times artistic expressions sculpted by man have indicated his concern with his surroundings. Arrows and knives were primitive sculpture and when man became civilized he tried to show expressions of love in religious art. He began to treasure artistic forms. The Egyptians were buried with sculpture of cats and other animals they loved."

Man's life is gladdened by art, he points out, that is why so much of it is preserved in museums and famous gardens. It provides a record of the happiness of people.

"Art pieces often become spiritual acquisitions commemorating the birth of a child, a marriage, an anniversary. It makes us happy to remember the occasion of the acquisition whether it is used in our home or in the garden where we might stroll in our old age with our recollections."

Carbonell will never part with his earliest works, a bull-fighter, and "the maternity," a madonna done in abstract form. They have become part of his life, he says.

Here are some ways to use sculpture outdoors:

Backyard lawn: Place a piece of sculpture on a pedestal in the center of a lawn. This is also a good spot for a sun dial on a pedestal.

Under bushes: Put small animals under low trees or bushes. Inexpensive stone and metal frogs, rabbits or birds might be used for starters.

At a small pond: Four little pedestals with statuary can make any little water spot look elegant. Metal herons or flamingos or sea animals can be used.

On a terrace: A small figure might be placed in a corner or on a stone wall surrounding it. Or combine statuary with a little fountain.

Outdoor niche: Where bushes and trees form a curved screen, you can make an enchanting little hideaway where you can read and find solitude. A stone bench and a few pieces of statuary provide a good start. Later you may like to add a fountain.

A simple bench may be made with a slab of slate and a base of cement blocks. No mortar is required. Just balance it properly. You might want to paint the blocks white.

Injecting personality into your garden will take creative thought. The Japanese accomplish some tranquil gardens in tiny space by pruning trees into handsomely gnarled shapes and by using rocks as sculpture and stones and even roof tiles to make patterned walks. Stone slabs are used across the tiniest trickle of water as another way to provide a picturesque look.

Here's the answer

Q—I am thinking about buying an above-the-ground swimming pool. Can you tell me how to install it?

A.—Not in this available space. And it wouldn't do you any good anyway. There are many different kinds of above-the-ground pools, each requiring its own method of installation. Be sure the one you select includes detailed instructions and that you have a pretty good idea that you can handle the project. It's not one of those jobs you can do in a couple of hours.

Q.—There is some copper on the outside of our house. We'd like to paint it. Any special kind of paint?

A.—Ordinary house paint will do if you first give the copper a coat of metal primer.

Q.—We have sheets of fiberglass over our patio at the back of the house. They are very dull looking, having been exposed to the weather for about six years now. Is there any way of restoring the finish?

A.—First, try washing the fiberglass sheets. The dullness may be the result of dirt and grime rather than loss of the original finish. But if the washing fails to achieve the result you want, go to a dealer who sells fiberglass sheets and ask him for the special finishing material designed to restore the gloss to such panels.

Q.—I am making over one of our bedrooms into a family room and want to install plywood panels over the present walls. The present walls have paper on them, but it is tightly attached. Can I glue the panels directly to the walls or must I put up furring strips?

A.—No matter how tightly attached the paper is, it would be risky to glue the panels to it. Eventually the paper might become loose and dislodge the paneling. However, if the walls are smooth, there's no need to put up furring strips. Attach the panels to the walls by nailing through them into the studs.

Q.—Should the walls or the ceiling of a room be painted first? And is there any special technique for the ceiling? I will be using a brush.

A.—The ceiling should always be painted first. Work across the width or narrow part of the room.

Don't over-reach even if you have to move the ladder 20 times. Paint in strips that you can reach comfortably. Always brush the paint on from dry areas to wet areas. Don't start the job unless you have enough time to finish the entire ceiling without stopping. No matter what paint manufacturers say about paints that leave no brush marks, you may find visible overlaps if you take time out for lunch in the middle of the job.
